Kozhikode: Playing games with friends is some-thing that we all really enjoy. But what about doing it in the middle of your classroom lectures? You may feel it to be something extraordinary. But the English Department of Malabar Christian College is planning to introduce 'gamification' in classrooms to promote student engagement in active learning with the aid of technology.

Employing internet and electronic devices for ensuring the active participation of students in classrooms is what Premanand ME, a professor at the English Department, aims at. Premanand, the winner of the Best Techno-faculty Award instituted by the ICT Academy of Tamil Nadu for using Internet and Communication Technology (ICT) in classrooms, plans to make use of the services offered by the website 'www.kahoot.it' for better student involvement in classes game-based pedagogy, not attempted by any other educational institution in the state, is our new strategy," says Premanad.

With the game-based classroom response system offered by the website, a quiz can be conducted as a game, involving the whole classroom, in clicking the answers for the questions displayed on big screens.

'The lack of sufficient number of electronic devices such as Tablet PCs is the only limitation for its immediate implementation and whenever we get some 15 or 20 Tablet PCs, we will T'Puram: Aimed at spreading the messages regarding hygiene in sanitation, waste management, slaughter houses and septage management among masses, Suchitwa Mission is gearing up to launch an intensive IEC (Information, Education and Communication) campaign in all districts of the state with creative tools such as television advertisements, music albums and YouTube videos under a brand name and probably with a brand ambassador.

The task will be entrusted to an agency or more who have came up with an expression of interest (EoI). Alongside, it is fortifying tarallel. get groups, by roping in an effective participation of schools and youth organisations. The campaign aims to result in changing the attitude and behaviour of people towards waste management and environmental protection.

"The 12 agencies shortlisted after calling the EoI are asked to submit proposals. Depending on the tasks to be finished, selection of agency will be done and assigned the tasks. With the participation of target groups, an intense campaigning will be conducted throughout a year with new techniques," said V S Santhosh Kumar, director (operations) of Suchitwa Mission. Activities of the target groups and agencies for creative work will go in par-

Major groups is schools such as Student Police Cadets, Scouts and Guides, NCC and organisations like Youth Welfare Board and Kerala Mahila Samakhya Society would have their participation in the campaigning. As a prelude, workshops of state and district level officers of the groups were conducted in Thiruvananthapuram and Thrissur. An action plan has to be formulated to be implemented on all districts in the state. The plan is to carry out the IEC campaign along with the activities the target groups already do. Funding for the whole project will be done by the state government and through Nirmal Bharat Abhiyan (NBA), a comprehensive community-led sanitation programme of the Government of India.

Kozhikode: Listening to music and completing a painting seem to be a bit different. But artist Athira Sajith says that she completed the series of murals, 'Ananthasayanam,' by listening to the Swathi Thirunal keerthanas sung by K S Chithra. "Each of my strokes is born out of the lines that I heard during the work. A portion of the love of Swathi Thirunal for Ananthapadmanabhan can be spotted in my work 'Ananthasayanam,' recently done for DC Books for its compilation - '18 Puranangal - Lokam Namikkunna Nammude Paithrukam, Nammude Kathakal'," she says.

As a latecomer to the field of art, Athira says her creative life started after marriage and having two children, Meenakshi and Mahadevan. Never trained in childhood or college days in any form of art, be it painting, writing or dance, she is now actively involved in holding her painting exhibitions, choreographing and planning her dream project of combining art and music to develop a common platform for uniting skilled art-

"Experiencing the object helps in portraying it deeply. When we personally see and touch a leaf, we can understand its emotions. Later when we sketch and paint it on canvas, the strokes will explain the leaf's emotions,' she says.

The paintings include 'Swargarohanam' from Vishnu Purana, 'Krishna Leela' from Brahma Vaivartha Purana, 'Sagara Manthan' from Kurma Purana, 'Varahavatar' from Varaha Purana, 'Vamanavatar' from Vamana Purana, 'Matsyavatar' from Matsya Purana, 'Bhageerathi' from Naradiya Purana, 'Bhagavatam' from Bhagavata Purana, 'Skanda Mahatmyam' from Skanda Purana, 'Suryopasana' from Bhavishya Purana, 'Mahishasura Mardhini' from Markandeya Purana, 'Agnideva' from Agni Purana, 'Moksha Kanda' from Garuda Purana, 'Naimisharanyam,' the place where puranas originated, 'Srishti Sthiti Samhara' from Linga Puranam, 'Srishti, the Creation' from Brahmanda
